DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 5/23/06 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each cited foreign patent document; each non-patent literature publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. Only three out of nine foreign references have been considered because six references were not submitted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear where the heat sink is located.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-5 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuribayashi et al (US Publication 20030141854).

Art Unit: 2837

Claim 1, Kuribayashi et al describes a rotating machine with a built-in control circuit comprising a stator 42; a rotor 40 having a shaft 41; brackets 43/44 provided on both sides of the stator for supporting the rotor; a fan 45 provided on the rotor for cooling at least said rotor or stator; and a control device including inverter 22A for controlling the rotating machine, wherein the control device is coupled to the outside of bracket 44 in such a way that particular spacing is formed between the control device and the bracket so cooling air passes through the spacing.

Claim 2, Kuribayashi et al has been used to reject the claim as the claim is best understood, the reference teaches a control device 22 A having a heat sink 30 for dissipating heat of the control components.

Claim 3, Kuribayashi et al describes the control circuit having a switching device 22A, a capacitor 7 connected to a DC input side of the switching device, an a control circuit board 32 having a control device for controlling the switching device, see figure 1.

Claim 4, Kuribayashi et al describe the circuit board 32 fixed to the bracket on the side opposite to the load, see figure 4.

Claim 5, Kuribayashi et al describes the control device supplying AC current to polyphase windings 21 via conductors 8.

Claim 8, Kuribayashi et al describes the rotating machine and the control device being in an insulating shield member see paragraphs 0066-0068.

Claim Objections

6. Claims 6 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
